Grace

WEEK TWENTY-SEVEN

A Life of Thanksgiving

Because of all that the Son is, we have been given one blessing after another.

John 1:16

People talk about being blessed all the time. What is your greatest blessing? Great parents? Health and safety? Cool things you own?

When you think about it, God has given us blessings upon blessings. You could spend your whole life saying thank you!

Psst! Life hack: we should spend our lives saying thank you. Paying attention to all the blessings God gives you will change your life because it changes your heart. It teaches you to concentrate on the good things in your life—the things that come from God.

We don't deserve blessings. We didn't do anything to earn them. God gives them to us because he loves us. This is called grace. Truly, we are given grace after grace.

But what is the biggest blessing of all? The one that can't ever be taken away? Jesus! Blessings are given and taken away, but God is always with us. Because of Jesus's death on the cross, we can be forgiven for anything and everything when we admit our sins and change our attitude toward wrong things. Being adopted as a child into God's family is utterly mind blowing! We can have all the goodness of God's Kingdom because of Jesus and his great, great love for us.

We are given many blessings, but the greatest one of them all is Jesus.

God of hope

WEEK TWENTY-EIGHT

Holding Out Hope

I pray that God, who gives hope, will bless you with complete happiness and peace because of your faith. And may the power of the Holy Spirit fill you with hope.

Romans 15:13

You hope to get on the track team. You hope to pass the test. You hope to make friends in your new town. You hope your grandpa gets well.

We need hope! Otherwise, we'll be down about life. Thankfully our God gives us hope... and it's a hope that is much bigger and lasts much longer than anything we can hope for on this Earth.

This week's Bible verse talks about the hope God gives us through salvation, which means he saves us. When God sent his son, Jesus, to die on the cross, he took the punishment for our wrongdoing. Because of that, we can be forgiven. Without forgiveness, we'd have no hope of being together with a perfect, holy God.

But because of Jesus, we can have hope to enter his Kingdom, Heaven. That's real, eternal hope!

And this kind of hope gives you joy through the Holy Spirit. Even when life can get you feeling down, God will never leave you hopeless. Remind yourself of the great price he paid for you on the cross. Thank him for his love and forgiveness. And go out to face your day with the joy that comes from the God of true hope!

The Holy Spirit fills us with hope. Sometimes it's hard to know he is there because we can't see him. This week, find a quiet room and pray that God will surround you with his Holy Spirit. When the End Comes

The Lord isn't slow about keeping his promises, as some people think he is. In fact, God is patient, because he wants everyone to turn from sin and no one to be lost.

2 Peter 3:9

Do you ever get in a hurry for the end of a story in a book or a movie? You may get tired of all the bad stuff in the middle when you know it has a good finish.

We also know the end of the world's story is going to be good—no more bad guys, no more pain, no more goodbyes, and, best of all, we'll get to be with Jesus face to face!

So it's easy to want to skip to the end, but God is being patient in bringing the story to the end. Why? Because he wants to give everyone plenty of opportunity to turn from their bad ways, ask forgiveness, and live for him.

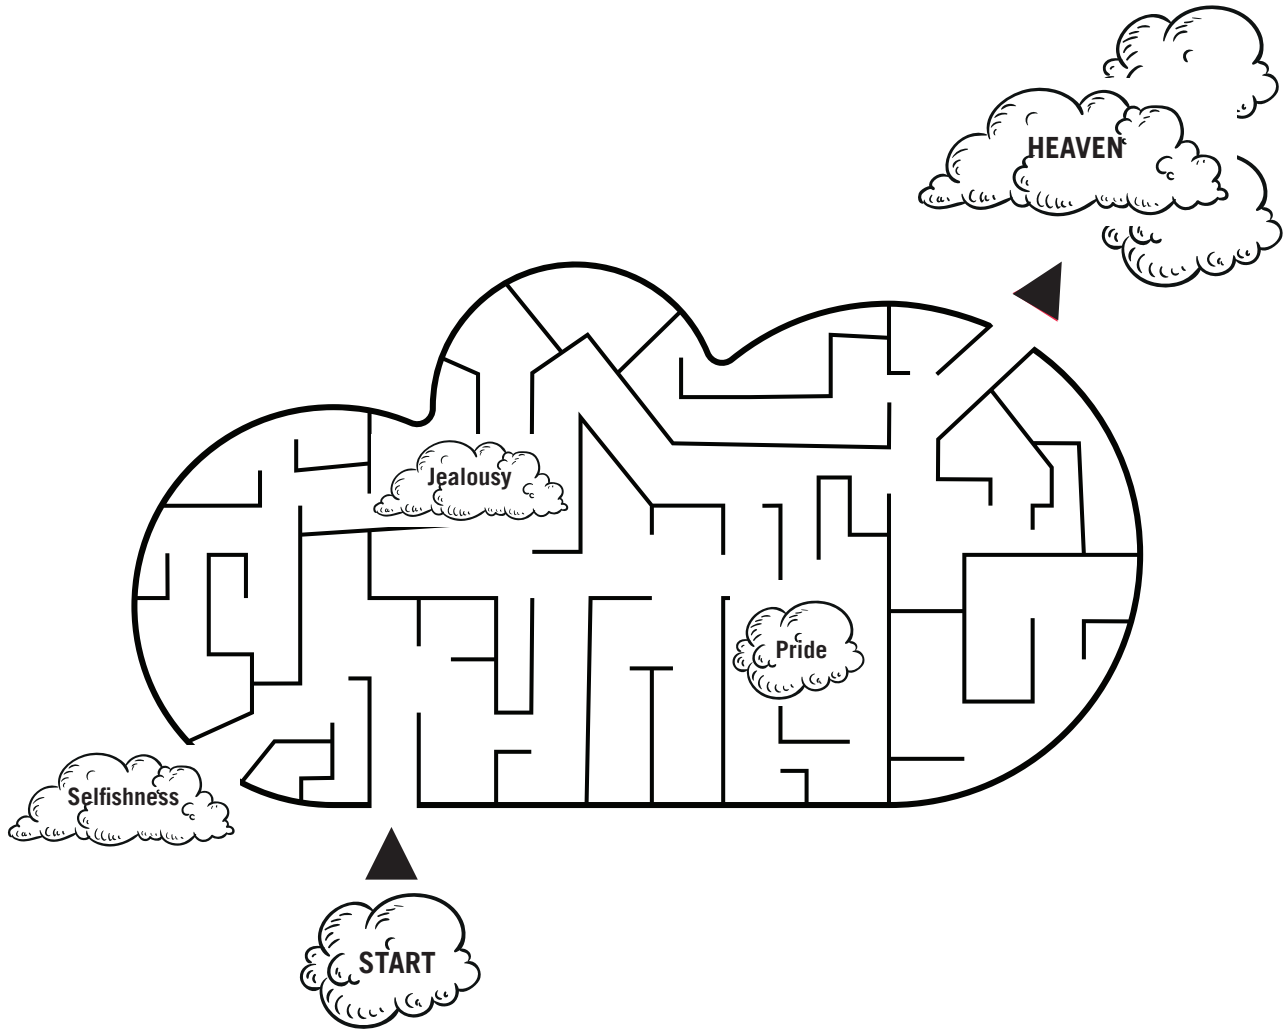

How awesome would that be? Imagine your worst enemy becoming your brother or sister in Christ! It takes an amazing God to do something like that. Now imagine you and all your friends sharing your love for Jesus and helping each other live for him. Imagine never being separated from anyone you love.

You don't have to just imagine these things. You can help make them happen by loving Jesus and telling others about him!

It's good to think about the end of the story and the things Jesus promises us. It helps us to wait and to pray for people to turn to God.

WEEK THIRTY

Making a Change

If my own people will humbly pray and turn back to me and stop sinning, then I will answer them from heaven. I will forgive them and make their land fertile once again.

2 Chronicles 7:14

Adults are often worrying about America. They worry about our leaders, immigration, money, elections, crime, our Military, education, and the list goes on. It's enough things to talk about to fill our news channels 24 hours a day, seven days a week. And as a Military kid, you are probably extra aware of how problems with the country can affect you and your family.

But so what? It's not like there's anything you can do about it all.

Or is there?

Actually, you can do an important thing for your country: you can pray. People can work and argue and fight all their lives for America, but if God isn't helping, all those efforts will fail. So, we need to pray! We need to ask God to forgive us for what America does wrong. We can ask him to keep us safe from enemies. We can ask him to give our leaders wisdom. Most of all, we need to ask him to turn the hearts of more Americans to follow Jesus.

America is a great country because God has blessed us. Many people throughout our history served God and prayed to him. You and your generation can do the same. God will hear your prayers. He promises that in his Word.

One of the most important things you can do for your country is pray.

WEEK THIRTY-ONE

Wherever I Am

*This day belongs to the Lord!
Let's celebrate and be glad today.*

Psalm 118:24

Maybe this place is too hot, or too cold.

Maybe it's too far from you friends.

Maybe it's just so weird!

Sometimes we just don't like where we are stationed, and it's hard to be happy about it. Or sometimes we're having a bad day, and it's hard to be joyful.

But no matter what, we know God put us here in this place, at this time. And he gave you this day—rainy, shiny, windy, crazy. No matter what kind of day it is, we can always be happy that he saved us from sin. It's an incredible gift!

So let's look for the blessings that he gives us each day, like little gifts sent for us to find. And let's rejoice because of him, even when we don't feel like it. Believing God is good and that we are saved from sin makes any day better. Let's focus on our wonderful God!

blessings, any day is worth celebrating.

Father for the lonely

WEEK THIRTY-TWO

When People Fail

Our God, from your sacred home you take care of orphans and protect widows. You find families for those who are lonely.

Psalm 68:5–6a

The prettiest girl. The most popular guy. The best athlete. The smartest kid. We all want to be chosen by the best—to be on their team, to be seen with them, to benefit from their status, to be thought of in the same way they are.

Well guess what? The God of gods and Lord of lords, the great and awesome one, has chosen you! He wants you to be his daughter or son—to be part of his family!

Military life can be lonely as you keep having to make new friends and figure out where you belong in a new place. The good news is no matter where you are, God is there. He walks into every situation before you. When you are by yourself, he is beside you. He listens to you. He cares about you. He loves you because he has made you his child.

Because people are human, sooner or later they will fail you. They won't say the right thing, or be at the place you need them, or be strong enough or wise enough to be able to help you. But God never fails his chosen children.

So don't ever forget who you are—a child of the living God!

People will fail you, but God never will.

Breaking the Hard Times

The Spirit of the Lord God has taken control of me! The Lord has chosen and sent me to tell the oppressed the good news, to heal the brokenhearted, and to announce freedom for prisoners and captives.

Isaiah 61:1

Some days are going to bring sadness. And when a bunch of those days line up, life can get really hard. Maybe you've seen that in a friend or felt it yourself. Some try all kinds of things so they don't feel the pain, or they try to hide it. Many of those actions only make it worse.

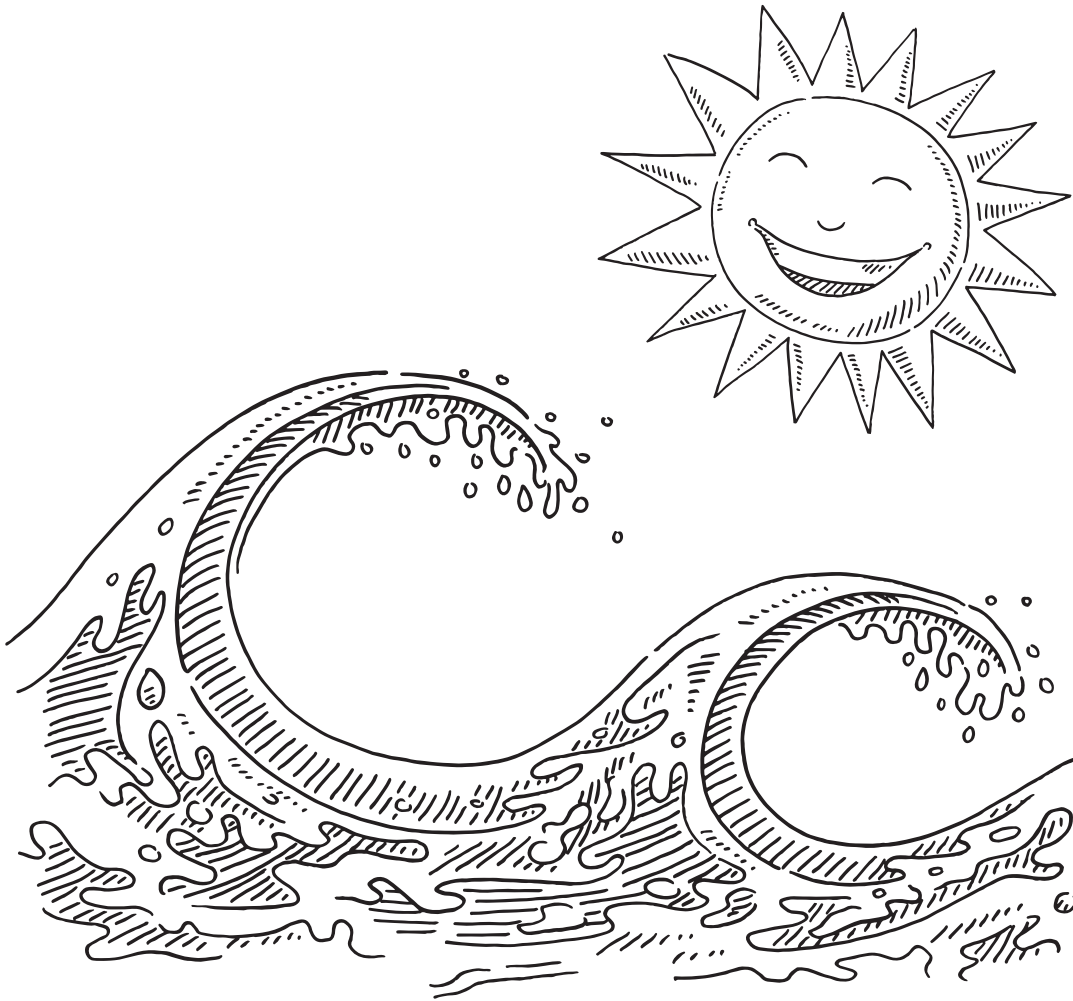

God cares about our pain, and he sent Jesus to help. Jesus himself talked about being chosen to come to this world to save it. Because of him, our pain won't last forever. Sadness, sickness, even death is not stronger than him. He helps us through it by giving us strength and peace.

He also sends us chaplains, pastors, doctors, teachers, parents, and friends. When you or a friend is feeling down, it is important to ask for help. Ask God to direct you to the right person. And be on the lookout for friends who may need help, too. You can be that caring person for them!

Look to God. Pray. Read his words. Watch God bring you and others through hard times. He promises he will do it in his Word!

WEEK THIRTY-FOUR

How Big is Your God?

*[In Heaven] ...Christ rules over all forces, authorities, powers, and rulers.
He rules over all beings in this world and will rule in the future world as well.*

Ephesians 1:21

In many parts of the world, it is illegal to believe in the God of the Bible. People risk their lives just to have a copy of his Word. They face being killed, tortured, or imprisoned if they say they believe in God.

How about you? Do you risk anything if you say you believe in God? Maybe you will look weird in front of your classmates or teachers. Maybe you will lose a friend.

Is he worth it? Oh yes!

We don't usually have to face consequences for believing in God, but every day people are observing our actions—do you believe in Jesus enough to live differently? Does it change how you deal with fear when your parent deploys? Do you think God is powerful enough to be worth saying no to drugs or alcohol or other things you know you shouldn't do? Do you see him as caring enough to want the best for you?

It's something we all have to decide: do we believe in a God who is smarter and stronger than anything in this world? If you believe this truth, your actions must change to match what you believe. Take some time this week to think about the ways you are living like Christ and the ways you can do better. Then ask him to help you be more like him!

WEEK THIRTY-FIVE

Who You Gonna Call?

The Lord will protect you and keep you safe from all dangers.

The Lord will protect you now and always wherever you go.

Psalm 121:7–8

“Who you gonna call?” the old song asks, and the chorus answers, “Ghostbusters!”

It’s fun for a movie, but when you need real help in life, who are you going to call? Hopefully your parents! Maybe some good friends or good teachers. And hopefully you know chaplains, pastors, and other people you can trust.

God gives us these people to be a safety net for us. Even if you are in trouble because of a mistake you made, there are people who love you, are quick to forgive you, and are ready to help you figure things out.

But the best person to turn to first in times of trouble is God. He is always there, ready and waiting to help you get through any situation. Sooner or later, people will fail you. They can’t be there every time. But God can.

So no matter what you are afraid of, no matter where you are or who you are with, look to God first for protection. Often, he will send help through the people you know, but sometimes his protection will come in a surprising new way.

Knowing God's Love

WEEK THIRTY-SIX

You'll Never Know

I pray that you and all God's people will understand what is called wide or long or high or deep. I want you to know all about Christ's love, although it is too wonderful to be measured. Then your lives will be filled with all that God is.

Ephesians 3:18–19

Have you heard this old camp song?

“Nobody likes me, everybody hates me, guess I'll go eat worms!”

It's a goofy, gross song and we usually laugh when we sing it.

But sometimes, it feels a little too true. Sometimes it seems like nobody likes us. But just because it feels that way doesn't mean it's true. There's lots of things we think we know are true, but we are wrong.

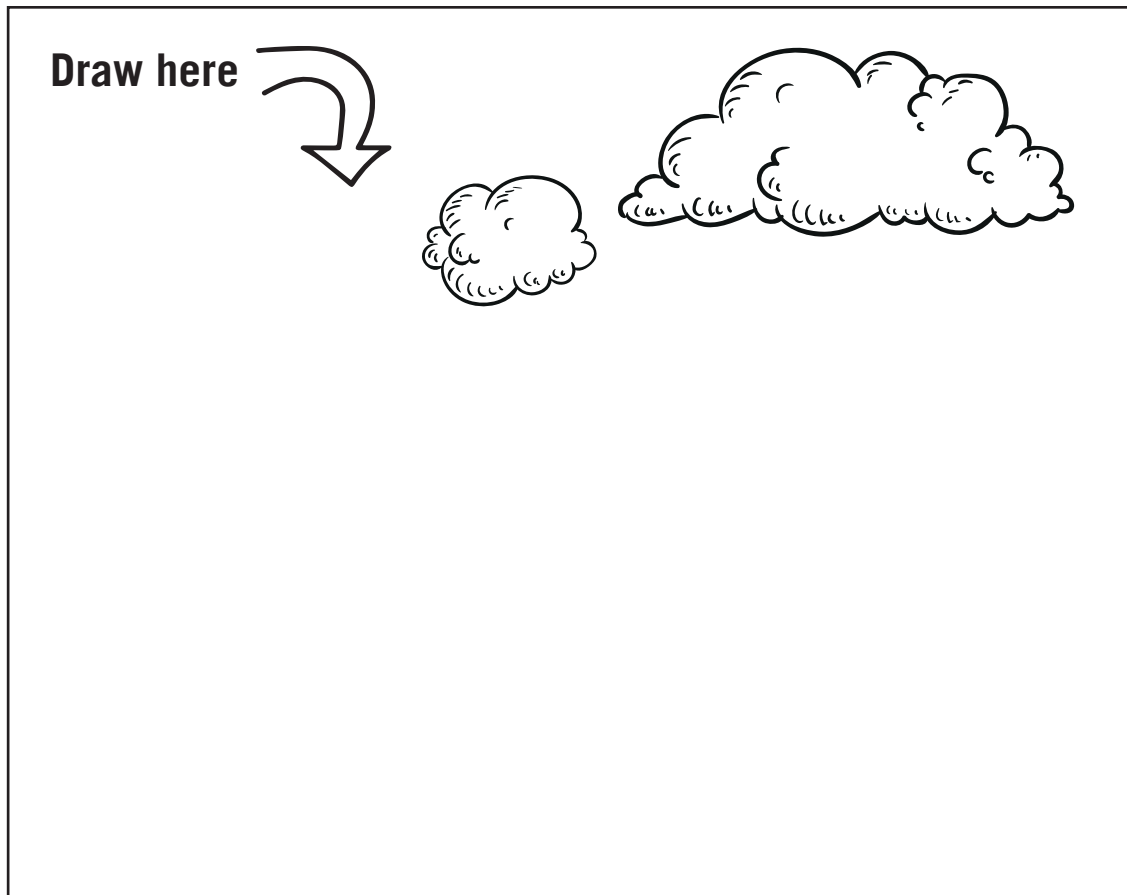

One thing we can absolutely know is true, no matter how we feel about it, is God's love. We will never reach the end or the bottom of it. We will never understand it completely because it is so massive. We can spend our whole lives learning more and more about it. We're swimming in it! We can't do anything so bad that he would stop loving us.

So instead of worrying about how many friends you have or what people say about you or how to look good in everyone's eyes, study how much God loves you by reading your Bible every day. You'll never get that all figured out!

Instead of worrying about how many friends you have, study how much God loves you.

WEEK THIRTY-SEVEN

A Shelter from Trouble

Our Lord and our God, you are my mighty rock, my fortress, my protector. You are the rock where I am safe. You are my shield, my powerful weapon, and my place of shelter.

2 Samuel 22:2–3

Where do you go when you are afraid? When you feel threatened by other kids or scary events or maybe even anger in your own home, what do you do? Hide? Run off to play with friends and hope it goes away?

The older you get, the more you realize there are a lot of scary things and only one person can protect you from all of it. Your parents or best friends can't always be there for you, but God can. He is the fortress or safe place surrounding you at any time, no matter where you are.

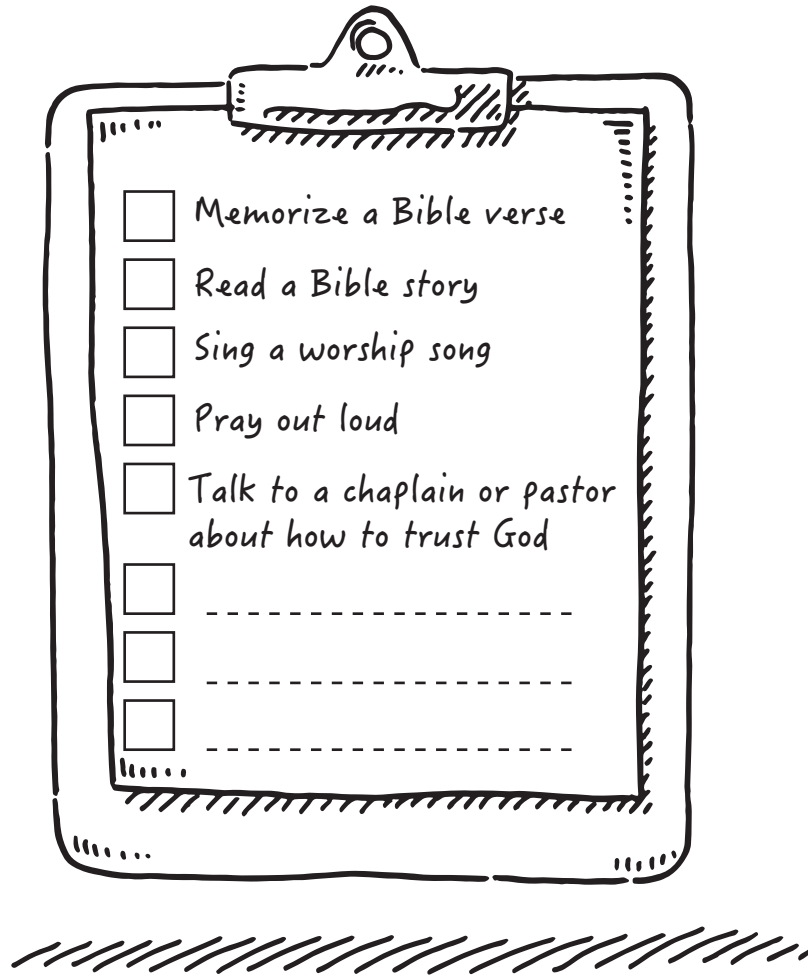

A man named David wrote this week's Bible verse. God saved him from many things—including a lion, a giant, and enemies trying to kill him. He knew God was his safe place, and he kept thanking God in prayers and songs. David compared God to his rock, fortress, and shield when men were throwing arrows and spears at him. Phew! That must have been scary.

Can you think of any times God has already helped you? We probably will never know all that he has done. But if you are breathing and playing with friends and having good days, you can know God is protecting you. And when you know about it, you can thank him!

god judges

WEEK THIRTY-EIGHT

The Highest Standard

Everything you were taught can be put into a few words: Respect and obey God! This is what life is all about. God will judge everything we do, even what is done in secret, whether good or bad.

Ecclesiastes 12:13–14

Who loves you enough to push you to be your best? Hopefully several people in your life, like your parents, teachers, or your friends.

And most of all, God does! He knows what is best for you, so he gives you rules and directions that will keep you safe and help you make good decisions. Nothing is hidden from him. He knows your actions, thoughts, and feelings.

God also punishes bad behavior. This may sound harsh, but it's for his good purpose. Just like your parents correct you when you do wrong, God does, too. He judges you, because he loves you and wants what is best for you.

He holds you to the highest standard—to be holy like him. God is making us into the image of his Son, Jesus—the perfect and holy one.

Thankfully, he also sent Jesus and the Holy Spirit. Because of Jesus, we can be forgiven. Because of the Holy Spirit, we have help to do the right things.

All of this means we can say, “Thank you God for loving us enough to judge us!”

"You and I were created by God to be so much more than normal . . . Following the crowd is not a winning approach to life. In the end it's a loser's game, because we never become who God created us to be by trying to be like everybody else."

—Tim Tebow,
former NFL football player and Heisman
Trophy winner

WEEK THIRTY-NINE

Know Your Leader

We have not stopped praying for you since the first day we heard about you. In fact, we always pray that God will show you everything he wants you to do and that you may have all the wisdom and understanding his Spirit gives.

Colossians 1:9

Imagine a soldier who wanted to please his Commander, so he learned a bunch about him, but he never spent any time with him. He never opened his orders from the commander and didn't know what the commander wanted him to do.

Crazy right? But sometimes we do that to God. We want to do the right thing, but when it comes time to follow through, we don't know what he wants us to do because we don't know him. We haven't spent any time listening to him or reading his orders found in the Bible.

God doesn't hide his will—or what he wants—from his children. He is an open book. In fact, that book is the Bible! When you read it, you get closer to him and start to understand what he wants. You also understand him through prayer and the wise advice from other godly people, like parents, teachers, and pastors.

And when you learn what God wants, you can do it. The Holy Spirit can give you power and wisdom to make the right choices. Obeying God brings him joy and helps you become more like him.

So, start today on your journey to knowing his perfect will. Think about how you can love God and know him more.

Mind Blower

We still don't know how birds, butterflies, and other animals know how to navigate while migrating, but theories include the position of the sun or the pull of gravity. Somehow, God directs them!
