My hiding place

WEEK FORTY

The Eye of the Storm

You are my hiding place! You protect me from trouble, and you put songs in my heart because you have saved me.

Psalm 32:7

On certain days of the year, Dad gets angry and nothing is right. Sometimes Mom cries for hours. When loud fireworks go off, your dad's friend jumps and starts shaking.

They may be suffering from PTSD (Post Traumatic Stress Disorder), something that many veterans have to deal with. Like an injury to an arm or leg, PTSD is an injury to the emotions. The horrible events our courageous warriors go through can cause it.

And when someone in your family is hurting, it affects the entire family—including you.

In these hard times, God promises to protect us. This week's Scripture verse reminds us that God will always protect us and keep us safe. This doesn't mean nothing will ever go wrong. But it does mean God will help your family continue to be brave and strong through the heartache.

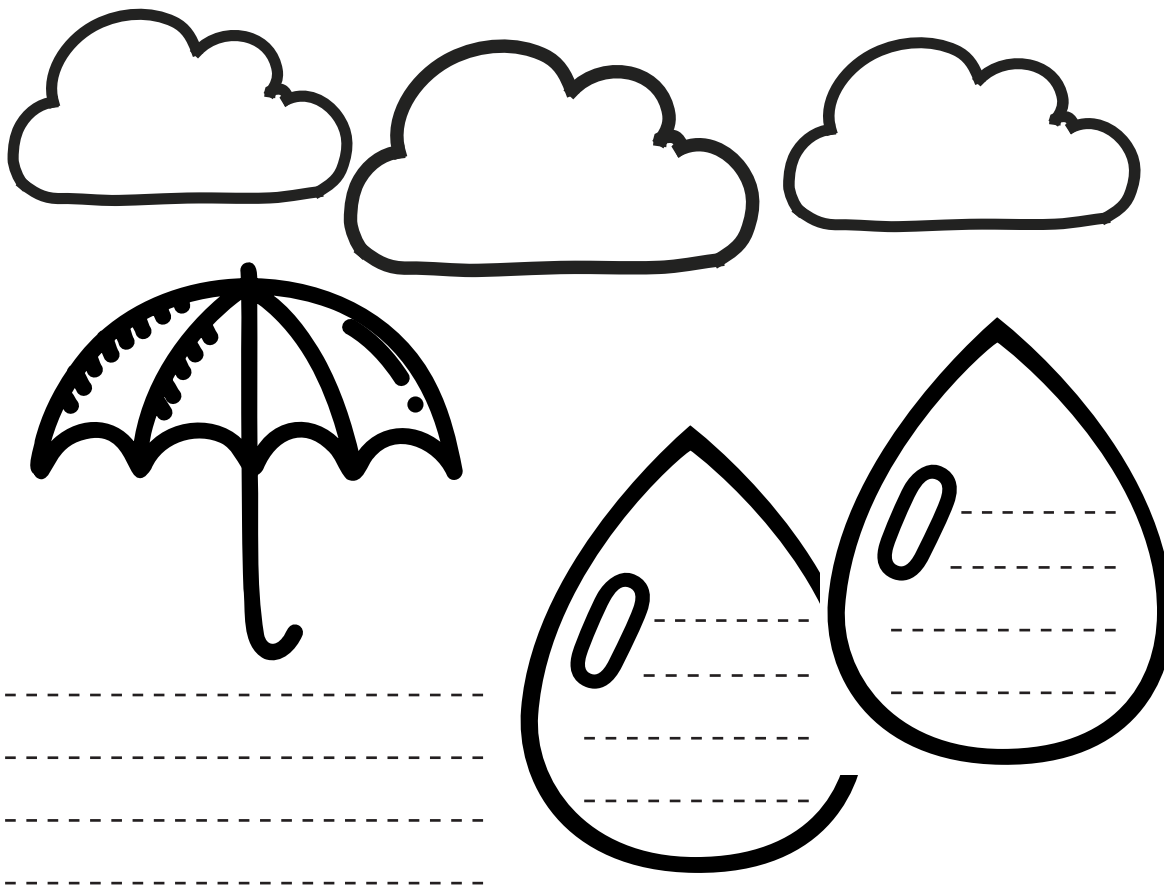

Similarly, in the center of a hurricane is a calm spot called the eye. The storm swirls and rages all around it, but the middle isn't as bad. God can be your eye in the hurricane. Bad things might be happening all around, but when you stay close to God, he brings you through.

Pray for your warrior parent and for your family. Thank God for being your safe place in the middle of hard times.

When PTSD affects your family, hold close to God and he will help you through.

Our loving Father

WEEK FORTY-ONE

Traveling with God

Think how much the Father loves us. He loves us so much that he lets us be called his children, as we truly are.

1 John 3:1a

Have you read the novel The Hobbit by J. R. R. Tolkien? In it, the character Bilbo says, “We are plain, quiet folk and have no use for adventures. Nasty, disturbing, uncomfortable things! Make you late for dinner! I can’t think what anybody sees in them.”

Bilbo is definitely grumpy! But sometimes we agree with the little hobbit. PCS? No thank you. Those are nasty, uncomfortable things. They disrupt everything—all your stuff, all the things you like to do, all the places you are comfortable.

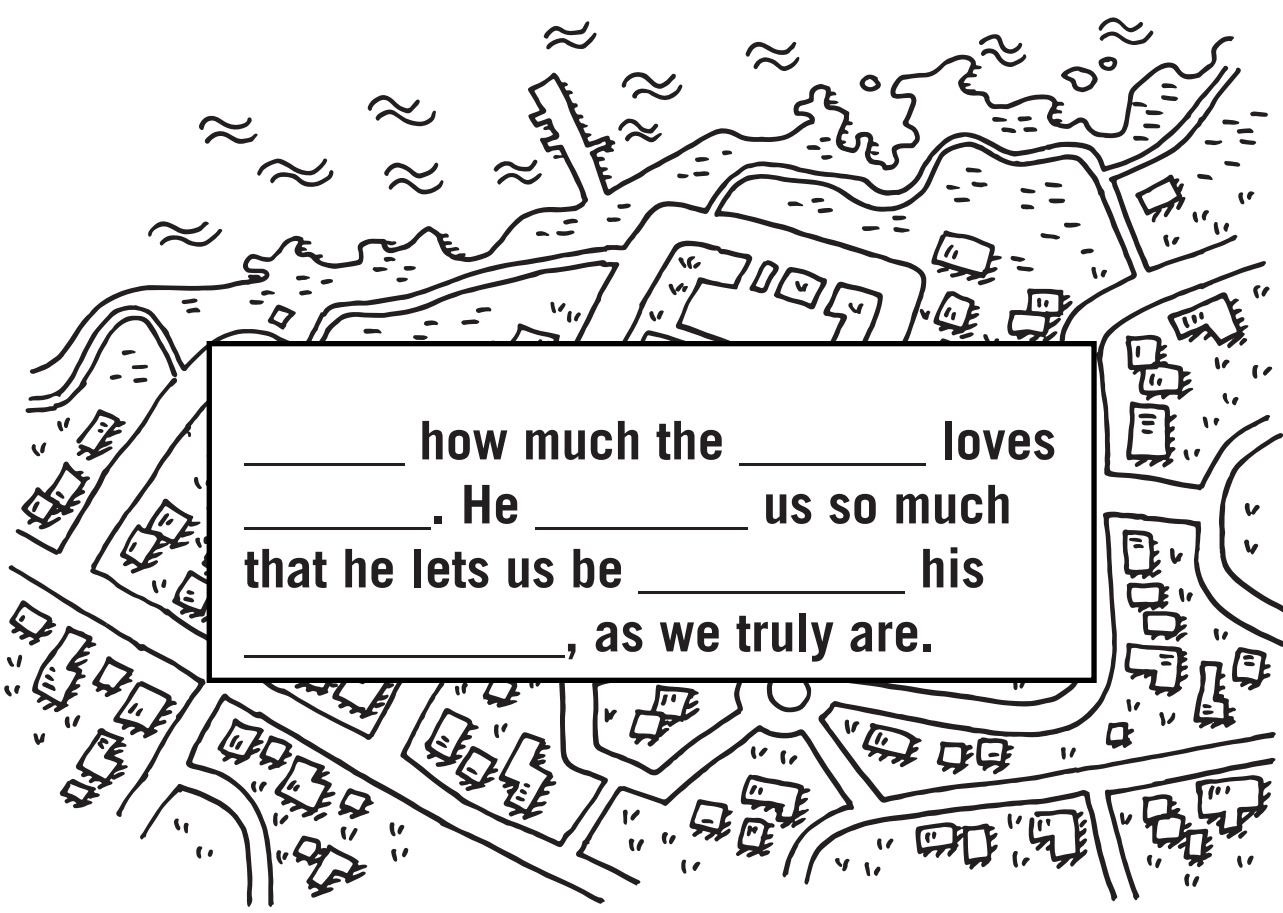

But what if God is inviting you on an adventure with a move? What if he is making you strong and brave through the hard times? What if he has wonderful gifts for you and your family at this new place—things you may never know about if you stay in one place?

You can believe God when he said he is your loving Father and will take care of you. Read this week’s Scripture passage again. Believing these words can turn fear into excitement to see what God’s going to do next! So, take God’s hand. Walk with him through the hard times and find the joy in being with him. His surprise gifts for his children are often better than we imagine.

God is your loving, heavenly Father, so he will take care of all your needs.

My Shepherd

WEEK FORTY-TWO

Watching Over Me

The Lord cares for his nation, just as shepherds care for their flocks. He carries the lambs in his arms, while gently leading the mother sheep.

Isaiah 40:11

No one coaches the team as well as your dad does.

Mom's the only one who really understands.

Dad knows how to handle that bully best.

No doubt about it: when your parent must deploy or leave for training, they leave a hole. Your parents are a gift from God, and when they're gone, you can feel alone, vulnerable, and kind of lost.

But God doesn't ever leave you. The Bible says he watches over you like a shepherd watches his sheep—feeding, protecting, and guiding every single day!

Sometimes God watches over you by helping your at-home parent or guardian. Sometimes he watches over you by providing a friend to play with, giving you a special opportunity like a fun trip, or giving you courage to face hard times and holding you close. At times it may not feel like he's there at all, but if you just hold on you will see how he brings you through.

He is your loving shepherd, and you are one of his precious sheep. When you feel alone, read this week's Scripture passage to remind yourself that God is close and always takes care of you.

Spiritual Fitness Training

Think about how a farmer cares for his sheep. He provides food, water, a safe place to sleep, and medical care. Then think about how God, your shepherd, cares for you. Write down some of the ways God cares for you below... and then thank him for it all!

No Longer Lonely

The sweet smell of incense can make you feel good, but true friendship is better still.

Proverbs 27:9

Do you really believe God will take care of you? Do you know he will give you everything you need? Sure, there are things we need like food, shelter, and clothing. Then there are other things you need to get through each day like strength, courage, and wisdom. All these are things the Lord will give.

But what about friends? Yes, friends are also gifts God gives. We need people, other than our family, in our lives, and God provides them. Sometimes, they might not look like you would expect. They might be older or younger, and they may not have a lot in common with you, but they are there for you.

A good friend will listen when you are sad. They will help you study when you are having trouble with a school subject. They will practice a sport with you when you want to make the team. They will pray for you when you are feeling sick.

Thank God for the good friends he has sent your way. And ask him to help you be a good friend to others. Certainly, there may be a lonely person who needs someone to talk to. Do what you can to make sure no one is left out of the fun. If someone is having a hard time, you can help cheer them up!

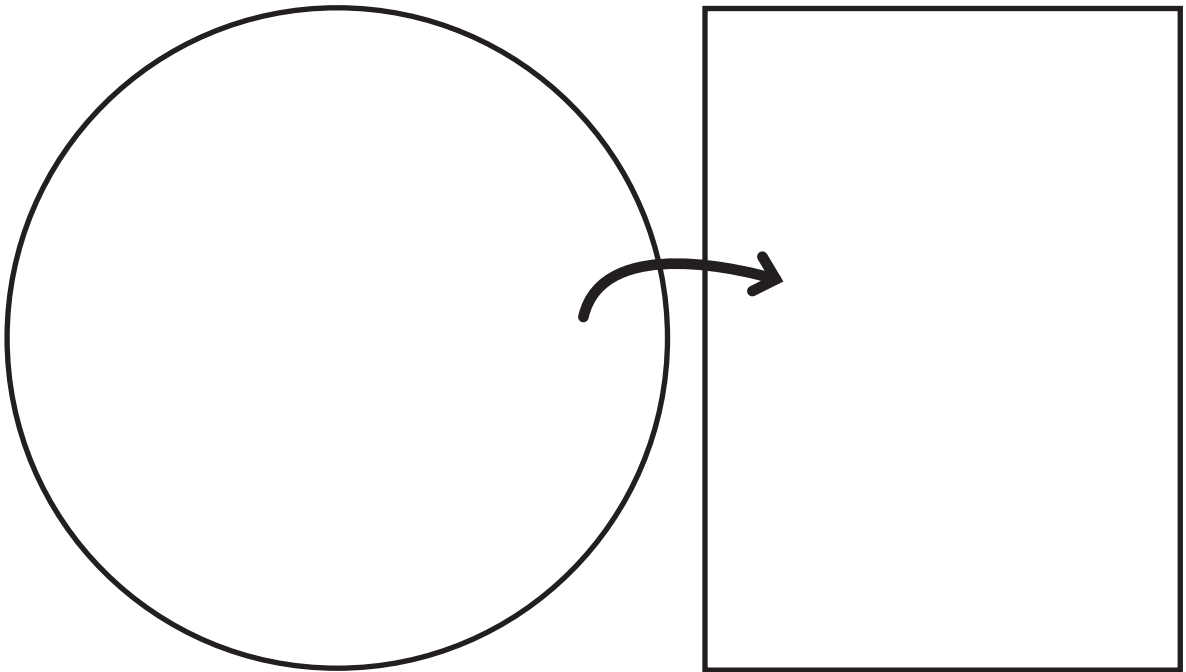

We all need someone in our life who cares about us. Thank God for your friends. And then commit to being a friend sent from God for someone who needs it this week.

Spiritual Fitness Training

Look around at home, school, church, your sports events, or other places you go. Who do you see that is lonely? Even people in a big crowd can feel lonely if they have no one to really listen to them. Pray for God to show you who is lonely and how you can show them kindness.

When Time is Short

God makes everything happen at the right time. Yet none of us can ever fully understand all he has done, and he puts questions in our minds about the past and the future.

Ecclesiastes 3:11

Sometimes it feels like you aren't going to be around long enough to make friends at a duty station.

Why bother if you are only going to know each other for a few months? Or why even practice with the team if you can't be there for the competition? Who cares about going on the youth group retreat when you're not going to see these kids again?

But God placed you here for this time. He is not surprised or held back by a short time. You will never know what God can do with that time unless you give him a shot. What does that mean? It means doing your very best in any opportunity God gives you. You can trust him to use it for his good plans.

So, choose to enjoy the new friend for a few months. Practice with the team, even if you will miss most of the season. Do what you can to improve the neighborhood, even if you don't get to see the results. Then trust God for good outcomes, even if you never get to see them. Wait on his timing and watch how he blesses you. You can trust his perfect timing!

Give God your best and trust him with the rest!

Jesus our light

WEEK FORTY-FIVE

Hope for the Bad Days

Once again Jesus spoke to the people. This time he said, "I am the light for the world! Follow me, and you won't be walking in the dark. You will have the light that gives life."

John 8:12

Your best friend got mad at you and you don't even know why. One of your parents is gone again for work. You got a bad grade on a test. You fell and skinned your knee at recess. Some days are just bad!

And sometimes it feels like the bad days are just going to keep coming. Sometimes even days that are supposed to be happy, like when your parent returns home, don't turn out the way you expect.

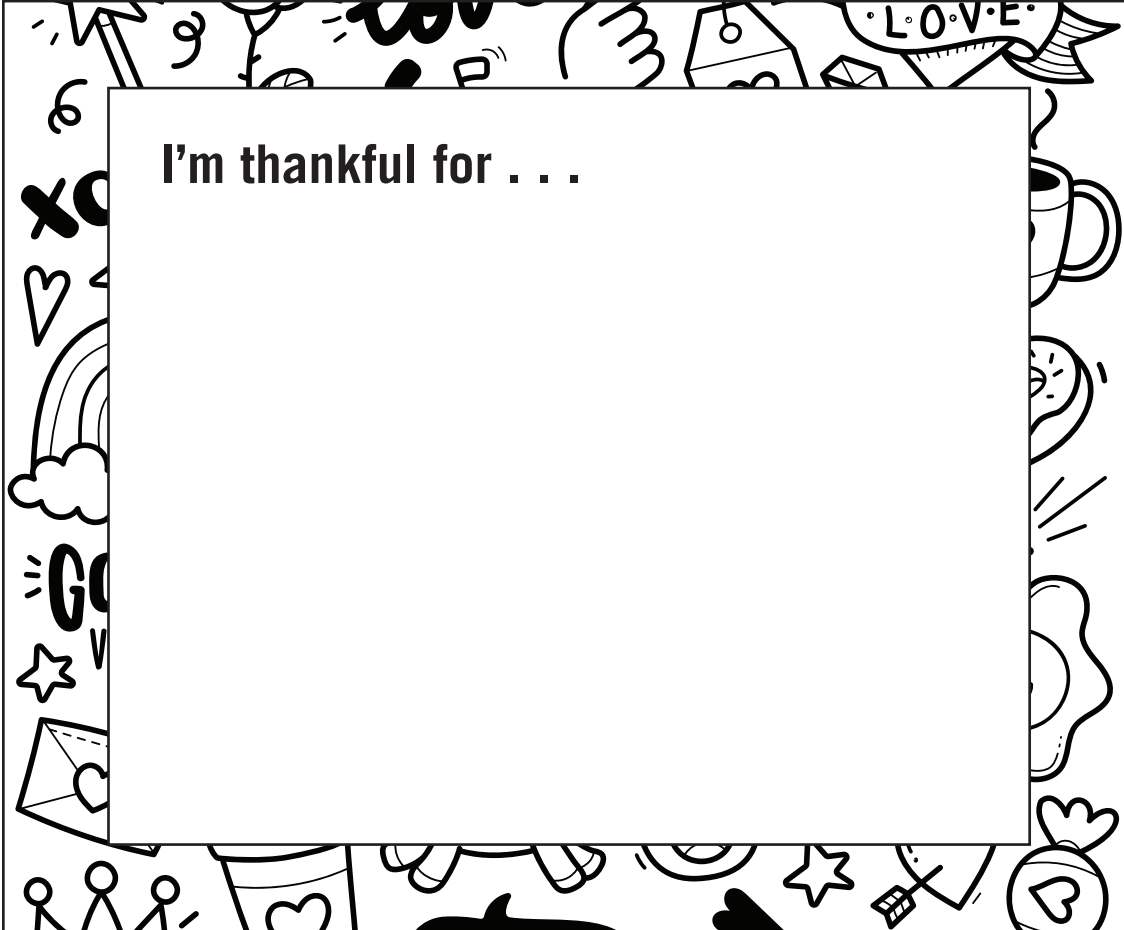

But with Jesus, we can have hope for better days to come. We can know the bad days won't last forever. We can know he will help us through. And even better, the best days will come when we are in heaven with him!

Jesus is the source of all life—everything that is good and fun and beautiful.

So, on both bad days and good days, spend time with Jesus. Ask him if you need to do something differently. Pray for other people who are having hard times. And pay attention to the good things God has already given you. When you remember how good he is, you are reminded he will always be good to you.

A Lifetime of Learning

Then he passed in front of Moses and called out, "I am the Lord God. I am merciful and very patient with my people. I show great love, and I can be trusted."

Exodus 34:6

What questions would you ask God if you were standing right beside him? What would you want to talk about? What do you want to know about him?

The amazing thing is we can know him! Our God loves us, wants to be with us, and wants us to know him. God is so big, so wise, so complex—there are things that take time for us to learn. We can spend our whole life learning more about him.

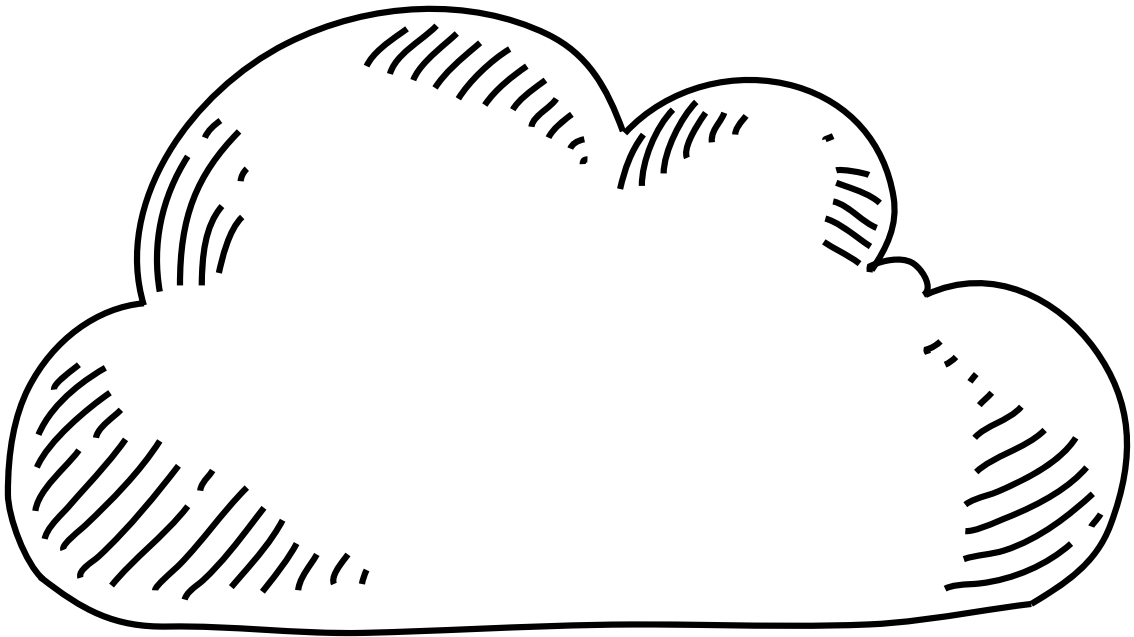

Sometimes we think we can't be close to God because we do the wrong thing. But God still loves us and wants to be close to us. That's why he forgives us, over and over again, and gives us more time to get to know him better!

So, how can you start the process of getting to know God more? The Bible tells us a lot about God. In this week's Scripture verse, we find out he is merciful, patient, loving, and trustworthy. Reading the Bible teaches you all about God and his character. You can also learn more by going to church and talking to your parents, your pastors, or other Christians.

Don't stress about how much you don't know. Just spend a few minutes each day learning more by spending time with God. He will show you!

Giving Love

Christ died for us at a time when we were helpless and sinful. No one is really willing to die for an honest person, though someone might be willing to die for a truly good person. But God showed how much he loved us by having Christ die for us, even though we were sinful.

Romans 5:6–8

We talk about sacrifice a lot in the Military. Our Service Members give up many things to be in the Armed Forces. And ultimately, they are offering their lives to do the work. Sadly, some even lose their lives in the ultimate sacrifice for our country.

They do it because they love America and the freedom we have in this country. But more so, they love their sisters- and brothers-in-arms, and they love their families. They do the hard things so we don't have to.

Military families sacrifice, too. You make sacrifices as a Military kid when you must move or must cope with your parent being away. While you don't have much choice in the matter, you do get to choose how you handle it. Are you going to sacrifice with a grudge, or do it out of love for your parent, your family, and your country?

God understands sacrifice. He loves us so much that he sent his Son Jesus as a sacrifice to pay for our sins. Jesus died on the cross willingly, so that we wouldn't have to face being separated from God forever. Now that's sacrificial love!

Jesus sacrificed his life for us because he loves us, and we can show love by making sacrifices for others.

*We may make a lot of plans, but the

Proverbs 19:21

When I grow up, I'm going to _____. Do you have a list of things you are looking forward to doing when you get to decide for yourself? Do you want to pick where you live, choose to skip school, or go out to eat all the time? You will be in control!

But when we get older, we realize we still have boundaries. Maybe you won't have parents or teachers telling you what to do, but you will have bosses, relationships, money, time, and all kinds of other things setting your limits.

Through various life experiences, we figure out that God has control over our lives.

This isn't bad news, though. It's actually the best news ever! It is good that God is in control because he is a good, good God! He has absolute power and he loves us endlessly. He has no limits.

So never doubt that God's ways are best. Walk in his plans and you'll find a joyful life. You can trust that he will make good things happen for you now and in the future.

What I Don't Deserve

So whenever we are in need, we should come bravely before the throne of our merciful God. There we will be treated with undeserved grace, and we will find help.

Hebrews 4:16

What keeps you from praying? Too busy? Don't think God cares? Don't feel close enough to him to ask for things? Or do you just forget?

God wants a relationship with you. He wants to talk with you all the time. He wants to be with you in every part of your life. In fact, that's why he created you! He is your father and you are his child.

And this is all possible because of his incredible grace for us—which means getting what we don't deserve. Because of our sin or wrongdoing, we deserve to be separated from our perfect God. But he sent Jesus to pay that price through his death on the cross, making it possible for us to be close to God. It's because of this great sacrifice that we can talk to God every day.

So go to God! Tell him you are sorry for your temper, your selfishness, your stubbornness, and ask him to forgive you. Then start talking to him about all of it. He will help you with everything.

Jesus paid the punishment for our sins, so we can go to God and talk to him about everything.

Counting on God

Your love is faithful, Lord, and even the clouds in the sky can depend on you.

Psalm 36:5

Here's the sad truth: people are going to let you down.

Your best friend might not be there for you when you're going through a hard time. That cute kid at school might not like you back. Your favorite teacher and coach are going to have grumpy days and not say the right thing. Your parents are going to make mistakes. And you are going to fail other people, too. This is all bound to happen because we are imperfect humans.

But God will never fail you. Think about that! He is everywhere, and he will never leave you. He is all-powerful, so he will never be unable to help. He has time in his hands, so he will never be impatient. He made all people, so he will never pick someone instead of you. He doesn't have any sin, so he will never be selfish. He holds all wisdom, so he won't do anything by accident.

And God loves you so much, he will never be unfaithful. He is with you through everything. That's the good truth you can trust.

So, when people let you down with their failures, hold on to your faithful God!

Spiritual Fitness Training

We tend to doubt God's love on bad days. However, if we remember the truths in the Bible, and the ways he has been faithful in the past, it helps us depend on him through those tough times. List some of the times that God really came through for you below and thank him for his faithfulness.

The True Know-It-All

I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.

Revelation 22:13

If you really want to learn something, the best person to teach you is the inventor and creator of that thing. Your grandmother could teach you how to make her secret recipe for the best chocolate chip cookies. Your gym teacher could teach you how to play that cool ball game he created. And your dad could teach you how to climb the ladder he built in the back yard.

Who is best to go to when you have hard questions about life? The inventor and creator of life—God! He is the beginning and the end. He designed every process in nature, from the earth's rotation to the sun's heat. He made every cell in your body and told them how to work together to make you think and breathe. He knows every answer to every single question!

Things in this world can seem out of control and leave your head spinning, looking for anything to hold to or belong to. How about grabbing a hold of the hand that created you?

God is reaching out, asking you to turn to him. He holds your life in his hands. So believe in God, trust him, obey him, love him. He will bring you safely through all the crazy changes of this life!

Running Back to God

The Lord your God wins victory after victory and is always with you. He celebrates and sings, because of you, and he will refresh your life with his love.

Zephaniah 3:17

Sometimes we feel like we don't belong. Are you only the second-best friend? Does your coach give more playing time to your teammates? Do you feel like no one is really excited you are here?

Finding your place can be . . . awkward. But the good news is God always has a place for you with him. He gets so excited when his kids come to him by choosing to love him, he actually celebrates! It's like he's singing. And not just a sweet lullaby, but a roaring loud victory song—like when your favorite team scores and the crowd hollers out their mighty chant.

God is so sad when we run away from him. We do this by making wrong choices—sins. He hates to see us headed for punishment because of these things we do.

But no matter what we do, we can always return to God. He invites us back! We can ask for forgiveness. He quickly forgives and brings us back into a relationship with him. That is the whole reason Jesus died on the cross for us!

So come back to God today. He is waiting for you and he will sing a loud victory song when you choose to go to him! Pray to him right now. He is listening.

The Lord gets so excited about us coming to him, he celebrates!
