Tips & Ideas

Think about things you might want to change in your life.

Talk with your parents or siblings about what you learned and ask them to help you with live out God's Word each week.

If you don't understand something you read, don't be afraid to ask an adult to help you understand it.

Memorize the Scripture verse each week.

Have fun and mark up this book with your own thoughts and doodles!

Jacob

WEEK FORTY

Finding God in the Struggle

The man said, "From now on, your name will no longer be Jacob. You will be called Israel, because you have wrestled with God and with men, and you have won."

Genesis 32:28

You tried to have a good attitude and trust God, but at this new duty station, you just can't seem to find friends. Or you couldn't be on the team because you missed tryouts. Or the movers lost a bunch of your stuff.

So, you get mad at the Military. At life. At God. You wrestle.

Jacob had his own struggle. He had heard the Lord's voice telling him to move back to his homeland, and he obeyed. But going home meant facing his brother, Esau. The last time they were together, his brother had promised to kill him. And now it looked like he was going to do it. Esau was on the way with 400 warriors—not exactly a welcoming party.

Jacob did all he could, sending ahead gifts, his flocks, to try to convince Esau to change his mind. Jacob took his family to a safe place, but he didn't stay with them. As he waited through the night, alone and anxious, a man came and wrestled with him. Jacob believed this was God appearing like a man. Jacob refused to let the man go until he blessed him, and he did. And Jacob's name was changed to "Israel" which means "a man who wrestles with God."

God blesses those who seek and obey him. He helps them work through their doubts, fears, and frustrations. Jacob's father and grandfather knew God personally, but Jacob still needed to figure his faith out for himself. He searched for God and found him. You can, too.

Brave

God blesses those who seek and obey him.

The Woman Who Loved Jesus

WEEK FORTY-ONE

The Cost of Forgiveness

“So I tell you that all her sins are forgiven, and that is why she has shown great love. But anyone who has been forgiven for only a little will show only a little love.”

Luke 7:47

She walked into a room where she wasn’t invited. She embarrassed herself. Crying over Jesus’s feet, her tears smeared the dust, making mud. No one had washed his feet before the dinner—something that was always done for an honored guest. The tears kept coming. Her hair fell around her. She used it to wipe off his feet.

With determination, she opened a perfume jar, and its scent filled the room. This, her prized possession worth a year’s wages, she poured out on Jesus’s feet. The dinner host did not approve of her actions.

But when she saw and heard Jesus’s approval, her bravery was all worth it. She would give everything to please the one who loved her and forgave her sins.

How does a person love Jesus that much? How can you get to the point where you would bravely give your most prized possession, or even your life, for him? Jesus said it was because she knew all her many sins had been forgiven.

Jesus paid a high price to forgive us our sins by dying on a cross for us. When we realize how much we’ve been forgiven, how awful the punishment we deserve, and how great his love for us, our love for him grows. We can willingly and courageously hand our life over to him.

When we understand the cost of forgiveness and Jesus’s great love, our love grows.

WEEK FORTY-TWO

What Will You Do?

"If you try to save your life, you will lose it. But if you give it up for me, you will surely find it."

Matthew 10:39

So, what are you going to do with your life?

The older you get, the more you'll hear the question. It's expected you will pursue college, career, and achievements. People will even encourage you to look out for "number one," namely, yourself.

But Jesus turned that kind of thinking upside down. He said that the more you give away, the more you will receive. The more you help others, the greater your reward. And to save your life, you must first lose it.

Jesus practiced what he preached. He modeled giving up his life. Jesus bravely left Heaven and equality with God to become a human and serve people. When he sent his followers out to spread the word about him, he told them to give their life to him in order to save their life. They went without money or ways to defend themselves or other keys to success. But by living for Jesus, they changed people's lives and the future of the world.

Ultimately, Jesus gave his life as a sacrifice for us by dying on the cross. We may never face losing our physical life, but he does ask us to use our days serving him.

Giving your life to Jesus doesn't mean all your desires will be crushed. Rather, giving him control will bring a greater reward. Bravely following him is the best life and brings eternal life!

Bravely giving Jesus control over your life brings the greatest rewards.

WEEK FORTY-THREE

The Greatest Help

I was a nobody, but I prayed, and the Lord saved me from all my troubles.

Psalm 34:6

In a world of billions of people, who cares about one little girl?

Preena's mother had rejected her, giving her to people who would physically and sexually abuse her. She ran away, slogging through a large body of water at night, and by morning found herself in a church. It was 1901 in India. Preena begged the woman working there for help.

The lady was Amy Carmichael, a missionary from Ireland. She had little money, and even less authority or defensive strength. But she had a God who held great might and power and who cared for nobodies like her and this little, helpless girl.

Amy saved Preena and then hundreds more vulnerable children. This female foreigner even disguised herself and went into dangerous situations to find and rescue children in desperate need.

When Amy bravely offered the Lord control of her life, he used her and blessed her in ways she could never have imagined. The woman with no husband or children of her own opened a refugee school for many, many children who called her "Mother." The woman with no resources raised hundreds of children because God never failed them.

Against all odds, God provides the greatest help. He is always there when we need him. Just imagine what he can do through you when you give your life for his use? Pray today, asking God how he would like to work through a nobody like you!

Can't Stop, Won't Stop

I am John, a follower together with all of you. We suffer because Jesus is our king, but he gives us the strength to endure. I was sent to Patmos Island, because I had preached God's message and had told about Jesus.

Revelation 1:9

Feeling sidelined? Stuck? Or like there are things preventing you from doing what God has made you to do? What would get you through today, give you hope, and make you bold? How about seeing the promise of the final victory of good, a glimpse of the power of God, and words of encouragement from the Commander of the heavenly armies himself?

A man named John seemed to be out of the game. He had been preaching about Jesus to anyone and everyone. The authorities wanted to shut him up, so they banished him to an island.

But even exile will not stop God's work. God was not surprised nor did he give up on his plan to use John to spread his message. Instead, he unfolded his next step to reveal to John amazing things about the heavenly realm and the future. By the Spirit, John saw things in Heaven and wrote about them, and God used this book of Revelation to encourage billions more people than John could have told in his own lifetime.

In the book of Revelation, it's clear we serve an awesome, powerful God who will conquer all evil in the end; that he controls all things; that his plans will absolutely succeed. So, if you are feeling stuck or you are struggling to accomplish what God made you to do, remember that God is in control and will win every battle in the end. Give it over to him today!

When you feel like you are stuck, be encouraged by God's plans and power.

Caleb

WEEK FORTY-FIVE

Trusting the Promise Maker

But my servant Caleb isn't like the others. So because he has faith in me, I will allow him to cross into Canaan, and his descendants will settle there.

Numbers 14:24

Caleb stood on a hill, looking over the land. His eyes and heart couldn't get any bigger. Finally, his people would have a home—good land where they could live in freedom.

He had been here some forty years before. He and others had gone in to spy out the place. Amazing! They found grape clusters so big that two people had to carry each one. But when they brought the report back, the other spies cried about big warriors—giants—defending the land. Caleb attempted to talk sense into them: didn't they serve a God bigger than any man, any army? But they only tried to shut him up, and they threatened to kill their leaders.

God stepped in, saving them. The people's doubt of the Lord's promise and power was sin. Their punishment was to not receive the blessing of the land.

So, they turned back to the desert and wandered for decades. Day after day, traveling, scraping by, failing, dying, until all of Caleb's generation, except Joshua, was gone. Then, God fulfilled his promise that Caleb and all his descendants would live in the land. At the age of 85, with the strength of his youth, Caleb led the charge. His men took the hill country, and finally settled into a home. He saw his grandkids play in peace.

Does something God has promised you seem out of reach? Keep your eyes on the Lord. Let his Spirit guide you. Then hold on for his blessing.

WEEK FORTY-SIX

Strength to Care

When he saw the crowds, he felt sorry for them. They were confused and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd.

Matthew 9:36

You've lived all over. But the way people act at this place is abnormal to you. You don't understand what they're talking about or why they want to do some things. And when you tell them some of your stories, they look at you like you're from another planet.

No one here gets you.

Jesus can relate. He came from a place of perfection in Heaven to live with mortals amid all their suffering and sin. He tried to tell us things, but we didn't get it. No one was like him. No one understood him. And sometimes, they treated him as if he were abnormal!

How did Jesus respond to this? He kept turning his attention to others, not himself. Day after day, he spent his time teaching, talking, healing—loving people. He worked with them and for them to the point of physical exhaustion. And when more came to see him, he had compassion for them.

Jesus knew his life's mission was to serve others. Right through the agony of the cross, he kept his focus on loving God and loving people.

And he will help us do that, too. When we're feeling like a foreigner, we can follow Jesus's example and love others. We can connect with them by finding out what is important to them, what scares them, what brings them joy. It takes courage to care like that. Jesus can help us find that strength like he did.

Jonathan

WEEK FORTY-SEVEN

I Need a Hero!

"...But the LORD can help a few soldiers win a battle just as easily as he can help a whole army. Maybe the Lord will help us win this battle."

1 Samuel 14:6b

Ever feel like your world is under attack, your battle buddies are in hiding, and even those who stick with you don't have any way to fight?

"Relatable!" Jonathan the prince would say. Enemies were raiding his country. His army had mostly dispersed, many going into hiding. The rest didn't have a sword among them. When there are no heroes to be found, God is giving opportunities for us to step up to be heroes. But it requires our lives.

Jonathan freely put his life at the Lord's disposal. Spying an enemy's garrison on top of a cliff, he said to his armor bearer, "Let's go see what God will do!" With courageous confidence in the Lord, the two of them scaled the cliff, then killed 20 enemies in a way that would impress any martial arts master.

When Jonathan stepped forward, betting it all on the Lord, God went before him. He made the rest of the enemy troops panic—to the point they started fighting each other. Jonathan's men rallied and pursued them until they were utterly defeated.

Jonathan trusted God so fully. What is your trust level with God today? Do you trust him all the time, or are there still things you find hard to place in his care? Pray today to ask God to help you give your life—fully and completely—to him. Then watch as he takes care of you in all of life's situations!

WEEK FORTY-EIGHT

Telling the Truth

"In the desert someone is shouting, 'Get the road ready for the Lord! Make a straight path for him.'"

Matthew 3:3b

Every day we face a war on truth in our culture. Everyone makes up their own rules. Many believe that each person has their own truth.

But that's not what God says. With God, there is one truth—his truth, as recorded in the Bible. During Bible times, God sent a man to proclaim the truth and tell people to get right before Jesus came. His name was John.

You could say John was a peculiar guy—living alone in the desert, wearing camel's hair clothing, eating bugs and honey. But people saw he was a prophet, and they paid attention. John boldly called people to repent—to turn away from sin and rebellious attitudes, to straighten up their lives. To show their change of heart, John would baptize them in the Jordan River—earning him the name "John the Baptist."

John's entire life was dedicated to proclaiming God's truth. He was bold about it, and ultimately he died for it. He called out even the most powerful people on their sin.

While God might not be asking us to live in the wild in isolation, he is calling us to be different. We need to speak his truth with our words ... and live out his truth through our actions.

We need to speak God's truth with our words... and live out his truth through our actions.

WEEK FORTY-NINE

When Others Say You Can't

*We praise you, LORD! Our soldiers

Judges 5:2

Not spiritual enough, smart enough, strong enough. Not an adult, not wealthy. Wrong gender. Wrong personality. Wrong status. Just ... not enough.

All of us come to obstacles in our lives that make us question ourselves. We find some excuse—or all kinds of excuses—for why we cannot succeed. Then we even get mad at God for making us this way. But what if God made you like this on purpose? What if the thing you think is a weakness is an opportunity for God to work?

Deborah faced an impossible challenge. Her people faced an army that far outmatched them. The Canaanites had 900 iron chariots, the tanks of the day. For 20 years her people had been oppressed, living in fear of attack. What could a woman do in those times? She listened to God. And she volunteered, with nothing held back.

God told her it was time to fight, that he would help them defeat the enemy. Deborah told Barak, the commander, to gather the army. But he refused to go into battle without her. So she agreed. She trusted the Lord and went to war. And God gave them success. Deborah and Barak sang the victory chant, telling everyone how God won.

What obstacle are you facing? Can't see how God can help you conquer? Volunteer. Sign over your life to him, with no holds. Then watch him use you.

John 10:10b

We all want to be loved, cared for, and protected. We want someone powerful watching out for us. Someone who can see ahead, guiding us. Someone with resources taking care of us.

Jesus is that someone. In the Gospel according to John, after Jesus healed a man, the religious leaders questioned the man and threw him out of the assembly when they didn't like his answers. It was a power struggle; Jesus's power might make people question their authority.

When they confronted Jesus, he started talking about sheep. He said he loved his sheep, cared for them, protected them, guided them. He is the good shepherd who loves and cares for all the people who follow him. And, you guessed it, he's happy when they're healed and doesn't kick them out of the flock. He gives them the good life, the eternal life.

Anyone can become one of Jesus's sheep. Just start following him, like a sheep will follow its shepherd. Join his flock. Learn to know his voice and follow his instructions.

Life in this broken world is far from perfect for a Jesus-follower. Hard times still come, like injuries, deployments, demotions, moves, and loneliness. But to know you are loved, watched over, cared for by the great Protector—that is an amazing, full, abundant life. And the promise of eternal life means that this is only the beginning.

TALKING TO GOD

Jesus, I need you for this life and for eternal life.
Thank you for being my good shepherd.

WEEK FIFTY-ONE

Enjoying Your Work

Every day, you are kind, and at night you give me a song as my prayer to you, the God of my life.

Psalm 42:8

Elizabeth Greene found true happiness—heart-bursting, soul-touching, life-fulfilling joy. This was what she was made to do. On her first time to fly an airplane solo at night, God’s song filled her heart. Surrounded by the stars, as she breathed prayers of thanks, her mind repeated over and over the words of today’s verse: “his song is with me” (from the ESV Bible translation).

Ever since she was little, Elizabeth had loved Jesus and wanted to tell people about him. And she loved flying. By age 16, she had saved enough for lessons. A few years later, World War II broke out and she enlisted in the Women Airforce Service Pilots (WASPs) unit.

Still, she hoped her two passions would align more. She wanted to tell people about Jesus around the world ... and fly. But how could that happen?

When the war ended, God answered. Elizabeth met a man who shared her desire. Together they founded Mission Aviation Fellowship and began flying missionaries and their supplies to the most remote ends of the earth. Elizabeth crisscrossed the globe, telling many about Jesus.

There’s no joy like the satisfaction of being used by God while doing what you love. He gives us desires and talents that he can use to spread the good news about Jesus. No matter what you love to do, offer it up to the Lord.

God while doing what you love.

Spiritual Fitness Training

Daydream a little: What do you love to do? How could God use your unique interests and talents to tell people about Jesus? Talk to God about it and listen to what he has to say. (Some people hear God speak in their thoughts while they are quiet and focused on him. Others hear God speak to them through the Bible.) Jot down your thoughts.

"I find myself longing and praying that God will use the airplane not only in spreading the gospel to the ends of the earth but to help strengthen the whole Body of Christ by promoting a closer relationship and thus, more intelligent and effectual prayer."

Stephen

WEEK FIFTY-TWO

Fearless Faith

But Stephen was filled with the Holy Spirit. He looked toward heaven, where he saw our glorious God and Jesus standing at his right side. Then Stephen said, "I see heaven open and the Son of Man standing at the right side of God!"

Acts 7:55–56

Stephen stood out in the early church. He had been assigned to care for the widows. God was using him to tell people about Jesus and perform miracles. And when people argued with him, God gave him the wisdom to win every discussion.

So, his enemies hauled him into court. Stephen was able to deliver a long speech in his defense. He showed how the Jewish Scriptures pointed to Jesus. Listening, the religious authorities got more and more upset. At the end of his speech, God gave Stephen a gift: he was allowed to see into Heaven, and he saw Jesus standing next to God. Excitedly, he shouted for everyone to look and see it, too. That was it. The whole court rushed him outside and killed him by throwing rocks at him.

Stephen was unconcerned about what happened to him. Why? If he lived, he would find joy in serving God. If he died, he would be with Jesus Christ. This hope made him fearless. It didn't matter what people did: he would keep serving Jesus. So even as he died, Stephen called out to his Lord, and he asked Jesus to forgive his murderers.

Stephen was faithful to God and gave forgiveness to others, even when facing injustice. He stood strong and obedient to the end. Isn't that amazing? God can give you that fearless faith, too! Ask him to give you unshakeable faith today!

Stephen was full of the Holy Spirit. We will have no room for the Spirit if we are full of selfish desires, busy agendas, or the world's thoughts and priorities. How can you push back some of this world's influence today and tune in to the Spirit?
